MAS BORN IN SLAVERY

Blind Son Recalled.

Birmingham, Ala., Nov. 17.-Charity is years old, who died here this week in a little tumbledown shouly on the outskirts of the city, was the mother of Bling Tom, one of the greatest prodigles the musical world has even known. She was born in slavery and belonged to the family of Gen. James N. Bethune, wealthy Georgians, who lived near Columbus. She was the mother of twenty children, of whom the noted planist was originally regarded as the least worthy.

When Tom was born his mother benged to Col. Wiley Jones, of Georgia, nd not long after his birth she and her children were sold to General Bethune. Fom being blind and considered worthess was "thrown in." that is to say, in the transaction no valuation was set upon

When the child was 3 years old, acording to the story of his mother told just before she d led, he developed a creat fondness for music. General Bethune's daughters were accomplished musicians and the chief delight of the blind boy, who was allowed to crawl about the yard, wearing a single garment-a shirt-was to get under the winlow and fisten to the young women playing the pinno

No one paid much attention to him in those days and it was his custom to lie his hotel, and said; on the ground for hours listening to the ows of the Bethune mansion

One day, when he knew the occupants ouse, and groping to the piano climbed he keys cautiously with his buby fingers, Becoming boider, because no one came to ake him away, he began to play the selection he had last heard. The memrs of the family on the second floor heard someone at the plane and suppowed it was one of the neighbors who had dropped in to call * But at length Tom, the little blind negro, was discovered, and his remarkable musical talent was immediately recognized.

He was asked to play over the various nusical airs he had been accustomed to hear around the house. The astonishnent of those present was great when he reproduced them note for note and showed his ability to play the most comslicated scientions once he had heard hem. Thus was his musical gentles made known and while still a child he was introduced to the musical world. It was ald of blm in those days that nature had muste for him, and that even the patter of the raindrops on the roof were to h im sweeter than the greates man

Bling Tom's birth raises an interesting mestion in psychology, and has been the ubject of comment in the lectures of me of the most eminent men of selonce in the country. Just before his must ians. VIEW WINDOW DISPLAY

We have planned for Saturday a remarkable sale of Ladies' Shoes. This "Shoe Sale" is different from all similar occasions. Usually where liberal price concessions are made shoes of indifferent styles, odd lots and slow selling sorts are offered. This sale presents wast quantities of the choicest and most staple goods of the season. It is like cut-ting the price on "sugar" and "salt" which every store must have. For on Saturday we offer you ANY $1.50 AND $1.75 SHOR IN STOCK at this low price. Made of Dongola, Kangaroo Caif or Glove Finish, lace or button, plain toe or tipped n leather or patent kid. Shoes for dress or heavy wear; including several styles of Beaver Topped Warm Lined Shoes. Our window display will give, you a hint of the many different varieties which range in sizes from 2 1-2 to 8's. It is needless to tell why-sufficient to know, isbuy when occasions like these present themselves.
